

INFORMER

Message from CEO Kim Barbero

July 2019 kicks off a month of new beginnings at MCABC – a time to re-assess our purpose, to strengthen our internal awareness of the industry's key challenges, to understand member companies' barriers to success and to identify and leverage opportunities to provide member services and support that, ultimately, enable profitability for mechanical contractors in BC.

At writing, the member survey was still underway. The survey results will help shape MCABC's direction going forward. Together with you, our members, we will refine our Vision and supporting strategies. Our efforts will be measurable; they will:

- create awareness of the industry's economic impact
- elevate the industry's scope of influence with key stakeholders
- promote careers in mechanical contracting
- facilitate an environment of collaboration and camaraderie

MCABC is the only voice for mechanical contracting in BC and it is critical that it be heard, respected and valued by key stakeholders.

I am grateful for the warm welcome – the invitations to tour member facilities, attend events and hear your concerns. I don't want that to stop. Please contact me with your ideas, concerns and general comments: kbarbero@mcabc.org; 604 205 5058. The more I learn about you and the industry, the better the Association can represent the interests of mechanical contractors in BC.

Saying good- bye to Dana

A retirement reception was held June 21 at the Vancouver Golf Club to send off outgoing MCABC EVP Dana Taylor in fine form. After 29 years at the helm of MCABC, Dana received countless good wishes and toasts from friends and colleagues. A beautifully carved First Nations Talking Stick was presented to Dana as a farewell gift. The irony of this gift was not lost on those who know Dana well!

2019 Western Region MCA Conference

All reports were positive coming out of the May 30 to June 5 Western Region MCA Conference held in Banff, Alberta. Business was discussed, acquaintances renewed and friendships forged as the four western MCAs — British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba — came together at the iconic Banff Springs Hotel!
